

JOSU CALVO MOREIRA

Mr. Josu Calvo Moreira studied Economics and Business Studies at the University of the Basque Country, holds a Master of Arts in Economics of the European Community from the University of Exeter, UK, and has several postgraduate degrees, including the General Management Program (GMP) from IESE. He began his career in 1993 as a Senior Industrial Operations Consultant at Andersen Consulting, after which he joined Gonvarri Industries in 1997 as Deputy General Manager at Gonvarri Burgos. Since then he has held various management positions at Gonvarri, including COO in 2008.

From 2010 to the present, he has been Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Gonvarri Industries. He is also currently a member of the Board of Trustees of the Seres Foundation and a member of the Board of Directors of Unesid. He also collaborates academically with IE Business School.

He has extensive experience on Boards of Directors in the industrial sector: he was a proprietary director at Logesta from 2008 to 2010 and is currently a member of the Boards of Directors of several subsidiaries and investee companies of Gonvarri Industries, including international joint ventures.